Penguin Loves Mev

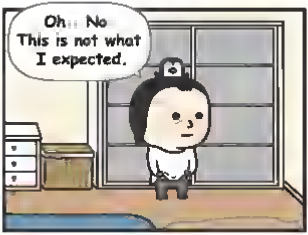
In the UK

Different

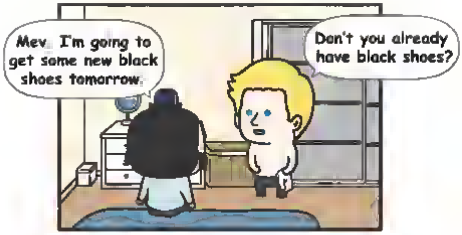
It is like there is a spell on women's closets, they never get full.

I always wonder that every time the season changes.

When I buy new clothes,
I think about which item I already have that goes well together.

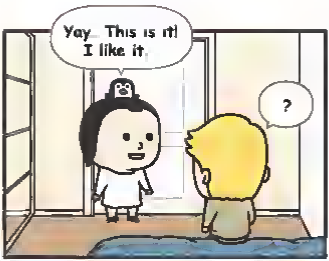


But sometimes my expectation fails.



Mev. I'm going to get some new black shoes tomorrow.
Don't you already have black shoes?

You know the white dress that I got for the party.
My black shoes don't go well with it
Er...



Mev doesn't seem to understand this situation.

I don't understand that he can't understand me.

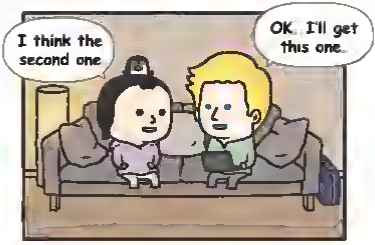
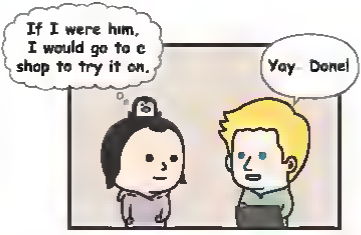
Anyway, lately, I realized
how differently we feel about this.



Mev ordered a new pair of trainers.



I already noticed a difference between him and me.

Another difference was this.

What? Mine are black and yours are navy. They look different
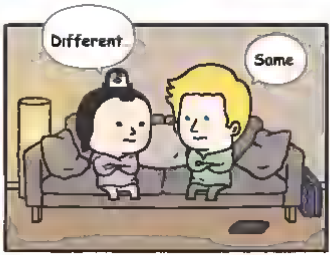
They look slightly different but they're almost the same!

No. It's a little bit similar but we can still say that they are different
No. Same~



So, let me ask you.

Same?
Or different?
